

UCLA Civil and Environmental Engineering

2019-2020 Information Sessions

Hosted by ASCE at UCLA

Information Session

Information Sessions are a great way for students to evaluate opportunities and network with potential employers. Covering topics that range from job/internship openings to an organization's culture, Information Sessions are a powerful method for career exploration. However, ASCE at UCLA has taken these Info Sessions one step further to benefit employers. We have worked with the UCLA Civil and Environmental Engineering Department to actively promote our Info Sessions through faculty involvement and department-wide emails that reach every civil engineering student. This has resulted in greater turn outs with more professional, company-focused events, which we will continue to accomplish this year!

What does our Information Session Package include?

Historically, ASCE at UCLA has had high attendance rates with upwards of 40 students. Our Information Sessions are a great avenue to spread your company's name, reputation, and agenda in a personal and engaging environment. Pricing for an Information Session is $750 (public agency $550) and includes the following:

- Free parking passes for all speakers
- All technology and room reservations provided
- Individualized attention from students
- UCLA Civil and Environmental Engineering Department involvement
- Special accommodations (i.e. price, logistics, etc.) provided with prior notice
